ENLISTED RESERVES CALLED BY ARMY

Students Look Ahead To Second Semester

Many To Register Tuesday Hoping To Finish Term

By Tom Scheiber

With no back term papers to hand in to their profs nor any tardy assignments to make up, all of which is an extremely great relief, returning students with the 'I can take it' attitude will be back for more of the same when they register for the next semester sometime after tomorrow (Thursday) or before next Tuesday, Feb. 2, the opening of the semester.

'More of the same' is not all that the expression implies, as the boys will later find out; for some of the subjects will be decidedly more difficult as puzzled students will definitely be more dazzled when they advance deeper into the realms, or depths, of math, science, and knowledge in general.

Enrollment May Decrease

As the days of registration draw near, it is impossible to judge the number of non-returning students. Rumor has it, but it is only rumor, that the ranks will be deeply rent between semesters, as the Manpower Commission also has its eyes upon the college boys. But on the other hand, since many of the students are Reservists, and since a recent letter has been circulated to the effect that the plan for the reserves is not fully prepared for execution as yet, the decrease in returning students may not be so great.

So as the fellows prepare to invade once again the quietude of the office of Registrar Rev. Henry A. Lucks, C.P.P.S., thoughts and opinions of the students concerning the results of the looming semester are doubtlessly many, varied and perplexing.

Poets Postpone Parley To Study For Exams

Examinations being more important at present than the discussion of the higher things in life, Dick Schreiber, president of the College Poetry Society, postponed the meeting of the society which was to be held Sunday, Jan. 24.

Valentine Dance Uncertain Says Raleigh Club Officer

Hanging in the balance is the fate of the annual Raleigh Club dance, one of the outstanding social events on the school-year calendar.

A special meeting will be held Monday, Feb. 1, in the Raleigh Club rooms to determine whether or not the Valentine day frolic should be staged this year.

The indecision is prompted by the problem of transporting guests to the college, securing a band, and the number of students who will return for their second semester. In the event that the club decides that these factors appear favorable, the dance will be held.

Senior Bill Smith, president of the club, expressed the private opinion that the chances for having a dance this year seem "very slim."

Close Church Unity Octave Here Jan. 25

From the eighteenth to the twenty-fifth of January, inclusive, the Catholic Church throughout the world observes the Church Unity Octave. On these eight days the faithful unite in prayer for the conversion and restoration to the Catholic faith of all those not now within the Church.

At St. Joseph's there was a noticed increase in attendance at daily Mass and Benediction.

The Church Unity Octave, which has received the highest approval of the Roman Pontiffs, was originated by Fr. Paul James Francis of the Friars of the Atonement, Graymoor, N.Y. The Friars were originally an Anglican community order which accepted the Roman Catholic faith in a body.

Men Will Report For Active Duty After Semester

Into the Army's khaki uniform will go students of the Army Enlisted Reserve Corps upon completion of the present semester, according to word received by the V. Rev. Aloys H. Dirksen, C.P.P.S., president of St. Joseph's.

A communication from Commanding General Wallace of the Fifth Service Command, Ft. Hayes, Ohio, revealed that the Army will call in the majority of its reserves for active duty as soon as the present semester closes.

Some Students Excepted

Excepted under the plan to call Reserves are all medical, pre-medical, dental and veterinary students; approved engineering students beyond their freshman year and students in the electronic training group.

The complete text of the message as received by Father Dirksen follows:

Dr. Aloys H. Dirksen
St. Joseph's College
Collegeville, Indiana

War Department desires you be informed college students in the Enlisted Reserve Corps will be called to active duty at the end of the first semester, term or quarter terminating after December 31, 1942, except as follows: all medical and pre-medical students including dental and veterinary; approved engineering course students who are classified as sophomores, juniors or seniors; students in the electronic training group; and aviation cadets enlisted on deferred status under joint Army-Navy plan. Detailed instructions follow.

Three Days Of Prayer For Alumni In Service

All students who have failed thus far to attend the Triduum for the alumni in the armed services are urged to do so by the Rev. Thomas Grotenrath, C.P.P.S., moderator of the Sanguinist Club for Catholic Action which is sponsoring the Triduum.

Said Father Grotenrath: "By taking part in the services, students will not only be fulfilling the requests of the alumni for prayers, but will also be praying indirectly for themselves since most of the students are subject to call in the immediate future."

Program Designed In Gotham

The program was designed and produced under the New York direction of Percival Vivian—co-worker with the late Sir Phillip Ben Greet and designated by Sir Phillip to carry on the great Ben Greet tradition.

Miss Hutchinson, graduate of the New York School of the Theatre and the John Murray Anderson Robert-Milton School, is an actress of wide theatrical experience and the subject of countless favorable critics' reports.

Worked With Stars

She has appeared in many Broadway productions—both drama and musical comedy—and has made eight coast-to-coast theatrical tours. In supporting roles she has played with Walter Hampden, Frank Craven, Charles Coburn, Gregory Ratoff, Gloria Stewart, Fred Stone, and

HAVE YOU EVER WAITED several days for a letter you expected from home or from "her"? If you have, then you will know how long it seems between the mailman's visits; it seems the next delivery will never come. And when it does come finally with your letter you know how you feel—good all over.

With those thoughts in mind, then, it might not be a bad idea to make a resolution to write that friend of yours in the service today. Many of your former classmates are now serving in the far reaches of the globe with the armed forces. If you think it's hard for you not to get a letter imagine how much more difficult it must be for them.

One of the professors had a letter recently from a man who studied here last year. He closed his letter with words to this effect, "Have some of the fellows write, Father." Perhaps you do not know the address of some of your friends who are now in the service. The Rev. Sylvester H. Ley, C.P.P.S., editor of the alumni publication, Contact, can furnish you with many. He will be only too glad to cooperate.

Remember how much a letter means to you.

Members of the Student Council held their second meeting of the first semester last Saturday afternoon. The meeting was called and held without fanfare, and although the results will not go down on the record books as a great accomplishment, they were a good effort. The immediate goal which the Council sought as a result of the meeting was not recognized as necessary by the college authorities. Therefore, the Council's motion died a quick death.

It is a healthy sign, however, to see the Council in session again. As yet, no definite regular meeting dates have been fixed for that body, but the Council has expressed its desire to know the attitudes and opinions of the students as a whole. This suggestion then might be made: See your Student Counsellor if you have a suggestion or a question. Since the Council has expressed its willingness to hear what the students have to say, it is no more than fair that the students in turn do their part.

There is work for the Council to do; not great work, but a purpose they may serve. As was written here before, the Council meant to serve as an advisory, not a directive body. If it succeeds in transmitting student opinion to the College authorities it shall have served its purpose well. Again that purpose might better be accomplished by fixing a definite date for Council meetings and making that date known to all the students.

HOLLYWOOD MUST BE a strange place. There are so many contradictions about it. Twenty years ago it began to mushroom out of nowhere, and the desert sands bloomed overnight into a fabulous wonderland. There were a lot of plain, ordinary showfolk—and many non-professionals—caught in the turmoil. When it was all over they found themselves leading the thought, styles, and ambitions of approximately eighty-six million moviegoers. In Hollywood a lot of big people are small; and some of the smallest are big. Maybe that explains it.

RITZ: Friday & Saturday

One of America's best-loved stories, "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," comes to the screen for the third time. Starring in this production are Fay Bainter, Hugh Herbert, and Caroline Lee. If the scenario writers stayed close to their original tale—the story of little people with large, warm hearts—this should be really good. Legion Rating: A-1.

PALACE: Sunday Thru Thursday

Here's the story of the small-town boy who made good... the old, old fable of the man who knew what he wanted... and got it. "Yankee Doodle Dandy" tells just how George M. Cohan got to be the way he did. Legion Rating: A-1.

Jimmy Cagney, Joan Leslie, and Walter Huston play the leading roles in this cinema that comes to the Palace for the first time at regular prices. Don't miss it.

RITZ: Sunday, Monday, Tuesday

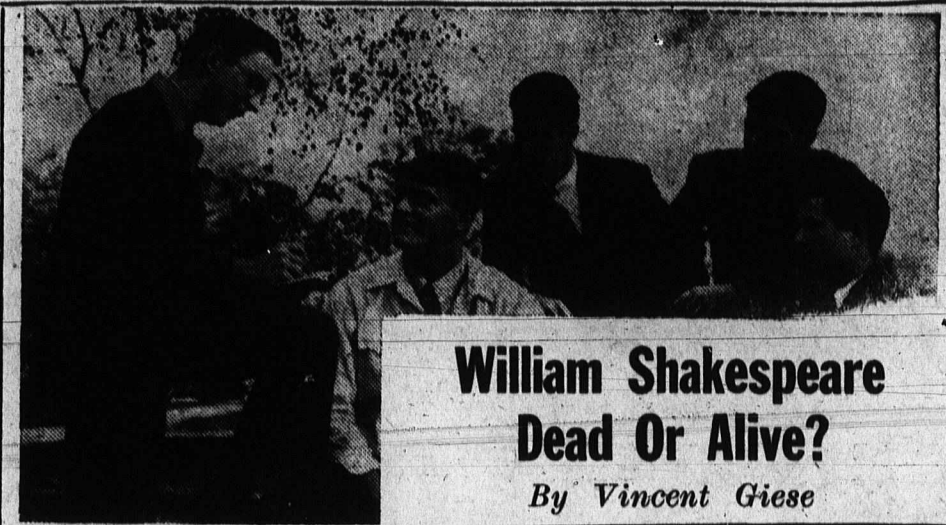

Running a poor second to the life story of George Cohan is "Arabian Nights," one of those pictures that relies on tall brunettes and very little costuming to fill the bald-headed row. Maria Montez, Jon Hall, and Sabu are the leads. Included in the "extra" cast is one Miss Peggy Satterlee, who claims to be acquainted with Errol Flynn. Legion Rating: B.

RITZ: Wednesday & Thursday

"A Night to Remember" is something new in the way of whodunnit shows. This time not only the murderer is sought, but also the victim. Loretta Young and Brian Aherne are together in this flicker. You can spot Orson Welles' influence in this picture. It features low-key lighting in many places. You will like it. Legion Rating: A1.

CAMPUS CAPERS

We are now amidst the semester exams. Oh, oh, how can we stand it? Most everyone is walking around in a trance. We even saw a guy beating his head against the wall. Wonder who is going to pay for the wall? Flash—Brother Dave and the J Cafe reported that a record has been broken these last few days in the sale of cigarettes. Wonder why? Bill Beach is out to clean you and your pockets for a nominal sum. He walks around with a big cigar thinking he is a businessman... Len (drowsy) Herriges says that the best things in the world is a bed. Chet Skrabacz keeps gazing at a picture on his desk. Is she from East St. Louis, too? Everytime someone mentions the exams Joe Pavletich pulls his hair, foams at the mouth and rolls on the floor. His roommate Chuck Joseph just starts to cry. Bernie Hoffman seemed to have a good time at Fort Wayne, especially when Berghoff made the one and only introduction... Carl Elward has a good job at the post office. He gets the mail first. We envy the guy. Ray Galvin is now referred to as the "Speaker of the House." Ask him why? Walker and Daily still stroll hand in hand making faces at each other. Have you noticed that plus-looking senior about the campus? We mean Joe Crance. Joe received a letter recently addressed, "Dear Seminarian:"... Believe it or not big Jiggs Huysman is a musician at heart. Jiggs likes to tell about the time he appeared for his first violin lesson. The good instructor took one look at Jiggs and told him to go back home and do something else—maybe shoot squirrels—for not even he could play a violin lefthanded. So it is squirrel hunter Huysman now... Big Joe Mikan still believes there are twelve inches in a foot of poetry. He even tried to sell Father Speckbaugh on the idea. But for once the odds were against him... It is rumored that those three inseparables—Gil Hodges, LeRoy Huenefeld, and Jim Sheehan—are going to room together next semester. Gil had a tough time propositioning Sheehan, but LeRoy was a pushover. Good luck Gil.

On February 6 Mary Hutchinson, Shakespearean actress, will appear in the College Theatre to give sketches of some of Shakespeare's greatest female characters.

Of late there has been some sign of a revival in the Shakespearean industry—thanks mostly to the theatre. This revival must continue if Shakespeare is to be kept alive. For, as it has been said, Shakespeare wrote of the people and for the people. Therefore his preservation must be by the people. And we here at St. Joe are a part of those people who must preserve Shakespeare.

With this issue this column is launching its own campaign for the revival of Shakespeare. To be successful we must make St. Joe Shakespeare conscious.

This week we interviewed those students who we know are enjoying Shakespeare and who have found that learning how to enjoy him is like learning to enjoy eating olives—the more you taste of them, the better they are. We asked them to give us their honest impressions of Shakespeare, and we are asking you to be present in the College Theatre Feb. 6. Here are the answers:

Ray Galvin, senior from Lexington, Ky., "I think that Shakespeare is read too fast. To be appreciated Shakespeare should be read slowly, for a few lines of his plays usually contain more wonderful and beautiful thoughts than an entire play of another author."

Jack Caron, sophomore from Union City, Ind., "I like Shakespeare for his power of stirring and playing upon one's emotions in such delicate, varied and satisfying fashion. The emotions he arouses are the most irresistible and overwhelming. Shakespeare makes one think and feel and widens and heightens one's consciousness."

Jack Peffer, sophomore from Lima, Ohio, "Beforehand, the reading of Shakespeare seemed to me a challenge to be avoided. However, since I have studied his background and learned how to appreciate his works in this semester's English class, this

One of three original 'ski' boys of Drexel Hall, the senior of the trio, and also one of the star waiters of the refectory, is Clarence Bernard Lewandowski. Clarence was born in Chicago May 3, 1921, and attended Weber High School there.

At Weber High, where he was a class officer in his junior year, Chuck played on the varsity basketball and football teams under the headship of Andy Pilney, one time Notre Dame athletic luminary.

Physical Ed. Major

Chuck, who now holds his fourth Raleigh Club membership card, is majoring in physical education here at St. Joseph's and minoring in English and education; he will be graduated in May with a B.S. degree in physical education. Along the athletic line, he played several years on both the football and baseball squads.

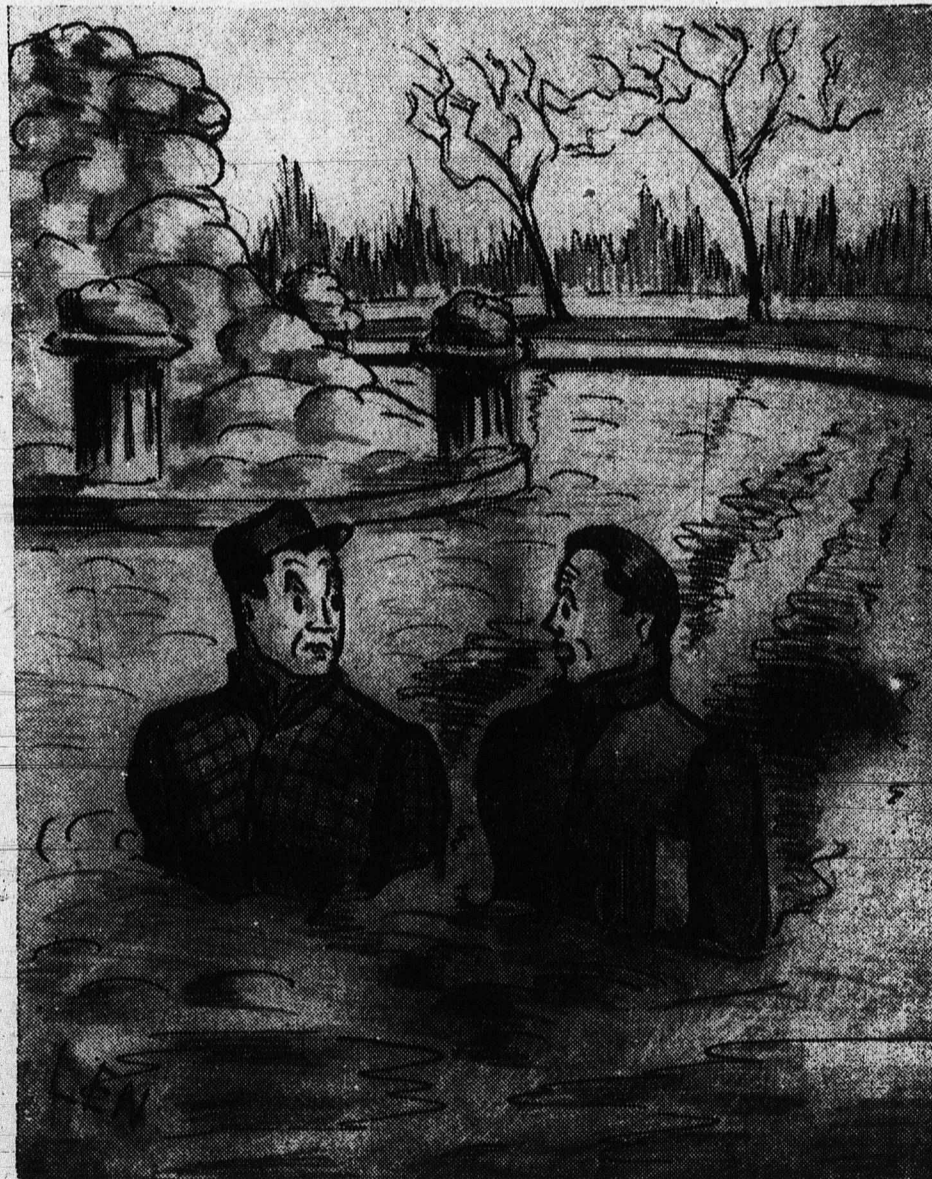

As he is enrolled in the V-7 program of the Naval Reserve, Chuck expects to be called for training soon after graduation; he hopes to be sent to Notre Dame. Chuck will either stay in the Navy after the war or, if he changes his mind, would like to be an athletic coach and teacher.

Chicago Teachers Fall 44-22 In Fieldhouse

Puma Prints

By John Feicht

It was always customary for the St. Joe rooters to gather on the west side of the fieldhouse floor. Both the band and the cheer leaders contributed heavily in pepping up the Pumas. Now the students all stay on the east side of the floor and don't even try to join in the cheers.

How about leaving visitors and the Rensselaer fans have the seats in the east stands? Remember the next home game will be with Valpo, and from all reports should be a thriller. It wouldn't be a bad idea to have a few organized cheers from the students.

Saturday's game with the Chicago Teachers must have seemed like a walking marathon to the St. Joe players after the last tilt with Valpo. There were more points scored in the first half of the game at Valpo than there were in the entire game with the slow working Teachers combine.

We would like to take this opportunity to congratulate all the St. Joe athletes who will be withdrawing from school at the semester. There have been mighty fine athletic teams representing St. Joe in the past few seasons in all sports. Our hat is off to the members of these teams who will be entering the armed services of the country.

While we are issuing congrats we add to the list the I-M bowling team of Stan Pukelis. This team, composed of captain Stan, Jim Fortune, John Callahan, Robers, and Sieben, won 10 of the scheduled 14 games. In the runner-up position with nine wins and 5 losses was Don Kremp's outfit composed of captain Don, Tom Fox, Bob Taugher, John Anthony, and Fordyce.

All intramural sports have been side-tracked this week because of the semester exams, but will undoubtedly be re-organized with the start of the second semester. Since the main portion of the student body enrolling for the next term will be reservist, the I-M leagues should hit a new high.

Even Score For Earlier Defeat In Chicago Gym

With a decisive 44-22 victory in a contest played last Saturday night on the fieldhouse court, the Puma cagemen evened the score with Chicago Teachers College. The teachers had defeated the Deinhartmen 29-25 in their opener on Dec. 4. Fourteen players saw service for SJC, but of the five who scored, freshman forward Mike Sokol came out on top with twelve points. G. Hodges and Jiggs Huysman, with ten and nine respectively, superseded the effort of forward Podraza, who contributed three field goals and a free throw for the losers.

Valpo Takes St. Joe 71-65 There Feb. 20

Hitting from an angle the Crusaders of Valpo outscored the St. Joe Pumas 71-65 last Wednesday night on the Valpo court. It was a fast, free-scoring game in which the Crusaders held the advantage from a few moments after the opening jump.

For the Pumas Captain Bernie Hoffman led the attack as he sank seven fielders and five free throws. The two freshmen who broke into the St. Joe starting lineup, Mike Sokol and Dick Krouse, contributed 24 of the Pumas' total. Each garnered 12 tallies.

Seifert Hall with three victories in as many starts leads the Inter-hall league. Their latest triumph was an upset 33-16 victory over the Gaspar five.

The leads in the intramural leagues went unchanged through the past week with the exception of the Gaspar confederation where Shields' first defeat left Reichert in the top position.

All intramural activity has been canceled for this week so as to avoid interference with semester exams.

Crown Pukelis Champ Of Ten-Pin League

After the dust of battle had cleared, Stan Pukelis' team was found to hold a slight edge in the I-M bowling league and was crowned champion.

In their Friday night match with the Feicht crew the Pukelis outfit gained a split decision which gave them the crown, as Paul Birkmeier led his team to a double win from the second-place Kremp aggregation on Saturday afternoon.

Hemmert Team High With the recording of the final scores, the prize winners were thus announced. The team recording the highest individual game without handicap was the Hemmert team with a 752 total. Highest individual game recorded throughout the course of the schedule was Johnny Feicht's 215.

Feicht also led the bowlers with a 169 average. Second and third place averagemen were Joe Hanley with 161 and Hugh Davey with 157.

As yet no plans have been formulated for the league for the second semester. However, it is highly probable that the league will resume operation.

Seek To Avenge Previous Losses To Both Squads

SJC cagers will be seeking revenge for two recently inflicted defeats when they tangle with the Sailors of Great Lakes Naval Training Station on February 1 and the Valparaiso Crusaders on February 3. The G-L game is scheduled on the Bluejacket court while the Valpo contest will be played on the local Fieldhouse floor.

The pumas hope to avenge their humiliating 60-32 setback which the Sailors handed them in the Navy Relief Fund Game in Ft. Wayne on Jan. 14. The Cardinal and Purple's chances of success will rest heavily upon Capt. Bernie Hoffman. His fourteen-point average and more besides will be needed along with the aid of Gil Hodges and Don Schrenk.

Lt. Paul D. (Tony) Hinkle has been using to good advantage a method of starting his second team, and after the battle is well underway, sending the first five onto the floor. Eddie Riska, Notre Dame and Professional star, and Bob Davies, who played for Seton Hall a few years back, are the forwards on this first five.

Northwestern U. provided the Bluejacket quintet with a stellar six foot-two center in Dick Klein. Bob Dietz, who formerly captained the Butler quintet, and Gil Huffman, Colorado U. alumnus, round out Lt. Hinkle's first string.

Season records of the Pumas went flying in their recent engagement with Valparaiso University. Sixty-five was the highest number of points that the St. Joe basketballers have garnered in one contest; that was topped by the Crusader's seventy-one counters, which was the high total for an opponent.

Previously no opposing player had scored twenty points or more as did Ted Bean and George Maddock, who had twenty-three and twenty tallies to their credit. Incidentally Bean's twenty-three points elevated him to the top position in the Indiana scoring race. In thirteen contests he has amassed 199 points.

Bean and Steve Gaza will probably be the starting forwards although Maddock's chances of beginning the game are more than even. Don Warneke of the Warneke six foot-ten giant duo is at the pivot post while brother Wallace handles a guard position. Ted Szikora rounds out the Crusader five.

John Goetz Tells Tale Of Fabulous Water

With its high light an address on "Heavy Water" by John Goetz, sophomore from Wapakoneta, Ohio, the Albertus Magnus Society held its regular meeting last Friday, Jan. 23. The society also elected John Terveer, sophomore of Decatur, Ind., as treasurer to fill the vacancy left by the graduation of William Browning, treasurer for the past semester. Pointing out in his speech many interesting features of "heavy water," known chemically as detrium or D2O, Goetz told how research work is being carried on with the compound, chiefly by Dr. Harold Urey of Columbia University.

Gallon Worth $75,000

A remarkable feature of the compound is that it takes 6,000 parts of normal water to make one part of detrium. A gallon of the liquid is worth $75,000.

Climaxing the speech, Goetz said that detrium is heralded as a "research triumph," and since only a few ounces of it can be produced a month, there has not yet been discovered any practical value for it except in the research field.

Drive For New Members

The club is now holding a drive for new members. Any student who has completed one semester's work and has a grade of 80 per cent in his major and minor subjects is eligible for admission to the Society.

Anyone interested in securing membership should contact a present member of the club for the necessary application forms.

Student Council Meet

Members of the Student Council met Saturday afternoon, Jan. 23, with president Pete Varini presiding. Purpose of the meeting was to determine the possibility of late lights for examination week.

Six Students Leave To Wear Uniforms

From professors to officers, from college life to military discipline went more St. Joe men last week.

Ed Cooper, who joined the Marine Corps Jan. 16, left school Sunday for his home in Chicago.

He will be inducted into the Marines very shortly and about Jan. 30, will leave for San Diego, for his basic training.

Jim Shields left last Friday for his home in Fort Wayne. As a member of the U.S. Merchant Marine, Jim will go to Brooklyn for three months' training. Jim enlisted as freight sailor during last Christmas vacation.

Cooper, Shields, O'Donnell and Reinman, won freshman athletic numerals last year, Ed for basketball, Jim for football. Shields, Reinman, and O'Donnell for track.

Phase Will Mail Copies To Departing Students

To all students who are leaving at the end of the semester comes this announcement from the staff of Phase.

Any student wishing to obtain the yearbook must leave his address and $1.50 at either the office of the Dean of Studies or personally with the business manager of Phase, William J. Smith, Louisville, Ky., senior. The book will be mailed not later than April 25.

Price Is Three Dollars

The price of Phase is $3.00. Each semester $1.50 is extracted from the publication fee for payment of the yearbook. Those students remaining in school will automatically pay the balance of the publication fee next semester.

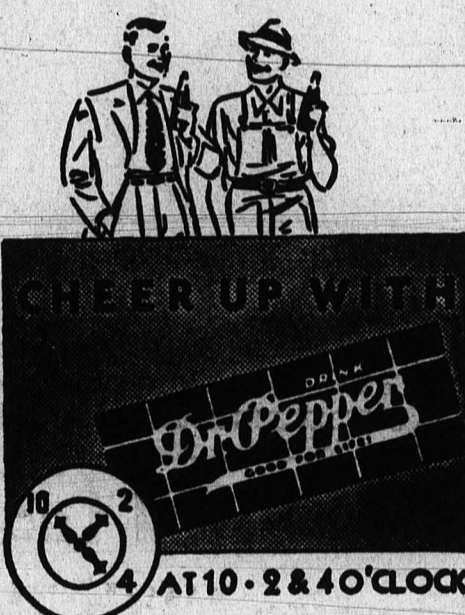

"It probably will be the best yearbook of all and well worth the price paid for it," said Smith.

Fr. Baechle III

The Rev. John W. Baechle, C.P.P.S., professor of Biology, was admitted to the Jasper County hospital, Rensselaer, for treatments on Saturday, January 23. He is now well on the road to recovery.

Death Of Fr. Cyril Knue Shocks Community

FATHER CYRIL KNUÉ

For the second time in as many months, the unexpected death of one of its members stunned the community of St. Joseph's College when word was received that the Rev. Cyril F. Knue, C.P.P.S., died Monday in St. Elizabeth's hospital, Lafayette, Ind.

Not quite two months ago death claimed the life of another professor, the Rev. Clement Falter, C.P.P.S., Chaplain with the U. S. Army, who was killed in the North African campaign.

Father Knue, professor of Chemistry and former president of the college, was taken to the hospital January 25. It appeared that he had a mild case of bronchial pneumonia. His condition was reported as serious on Thursday, January 28.

In September, 1942, Father Knue underwent a thyroid operation at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn. By November he had sufficiently recovered to take up part of his teaching duties. He had been in apparent good health until a few days before his removal to Lafayette.

Appointed to the faculty in September, 1926, Father Knue soon became known and respected as a priest of sterling character and a most capable teacher.

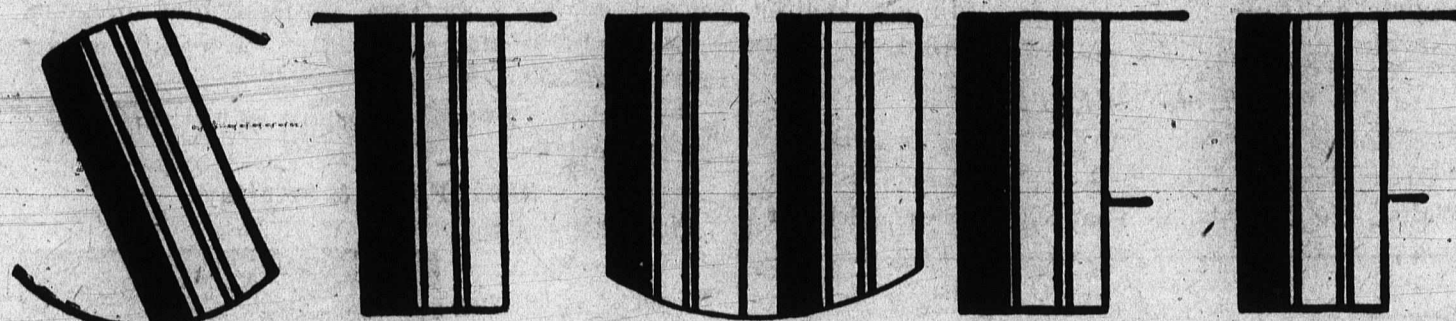

In June, 1937, he was appointed to the office of president. In that capacity he endeared himself to hundreds of alumni and friends of the college.

His great interest in the field of science led him on to further studies after he had received his Master of Science degree in June, 1936, from Catholic University. He took summer courses at Canisius College, Buffalo, N. Y., Indiana State Normal, Butler, Purdue and Indiana Universities.

A Solemn Requiem High Mass was celebrated in the College Chapel this morning (Wednesday) at 10:30. Tomorrow at 10 o'clock, the funeral Mass and final obsequies will be held at St. Charles Seminary, Carthage, Ohio. Interment will be in the cemetery of the American Province of the Community of the Precious Blood.

Born at Aurora, Ind., Dec. 7, 1895, Father Knue spent his youth in Indianapolis. He graduated (Continued on Page 4)

Registration Figures Show Decided Decrease

Eighty-Five Fail To Register For Second Semester

BY JIM CHANNELL

A little wallpaper hanger in Germany has caused a drop in the enrollment at St. Joseph's. Practically all the eighty-five students who have left school since the beginning of last semester departed from their books to take up a gun to stop a man whom they have never seen.

Too, this little Schicklegrubber across the ocean has changed the life of the 280 students who have returned to the college. Some sixty men in the enlisted reserve corps have chosen to remain here until they are called into active service. Undoubtedly, Hitler's ambitions will cause a greater depletion in the student body before the semester is over, when these reserves are called and other students are drafted.

Didn't Rain This Year

Besides this being the first year with a drop in enrollment, this was another unique registration period of recent years. It did not rain on the final day of registration this semester. This was indeed a singular beginning.

Because of the difficulty in classifying students brought about by the accelerated course, the Dean of Studies has not released a list of the respective classes.

Rush On Office Monday

The office was rushed on Monday, the last regular day of registration. (Continued on Page 4)

Sanguinist Club Will Offer Second Talk By Fr. Dirksen

The Rev. Cletus Dirksen, C.P.P.S., professor of Economics, will deliver the second in his series of lectures on the Papal social Encyclicals, entitled "The Nature of Social Man," next Monday evening, Feb. 8, in Science Hall before members of the Sanguinist Club and all students desiring to become acquainted with the Papal social Encyclicals.

In commenting on what the students may expect in his next lecture, Father Dirksen stated that "neither the extremes of Individualism or Communism do justice to the position of man. The Catholic position is not merely a medial position. It introduces a new aspect of human nature, (the union of the will to power and the will to community combined in harmonious union of tension.)" Father Dirksen's lecture will center about this Catholic position.

According to him, "The will to community lays the foundation of man's social nature. The Catholic position safeguards the individual by safeguarding the will to power and emphasizes his social obligation by the will to community."

Quaker Classes Profs Lose Voices With Strange Germ

A germ which seemingly has limited its attacks almost entirely to the faculty has caused considerable concern on the campus during the last two weeks, and to a lesser extent during the entire month of January.

For the most part loss of voice, which made classes something akin to Quaker meetings, was the principal external characteristic. Several of the professors eventually were confined to their rooms for a few days; others went to the infirmary. Three needed hospitalization.

Father Francis Hehn spent nine days in St. Elizabeth's hospital, Lafayette. Father Grotenrath has been there since last Saturday, but expects to return to his work before the end of the week. Father John Baechle was confined to the Rensselaer hospital for several days.

If you have never met Mr. Shakespeare, you will want to be present in the College Theatre next Saturday evening, Feb. 6. On that evening, Mary Hutchinson, gifted young Shakespearean actress, will be at St. Joseph's in the sixth of the 1942-43 theatre series to present "Shakespeare's Heroines."

Miss Hutchinson will step on the stage to relieve those best-known female characters of Shakespeare—Cleopatra, Lady Macbeth, Juliet, Rosalind, Ophelia, Portia. All will be portrayed in the rich colorful costumes of the period.

Uses Translucent Dressing Room

Scene changes will be made quickly behind a translucent screen on the stage, by which Miss Hutchinson will be able to make changes from one elaborately-clad character to another while keeping the interest of her audience as she continues.

Mary Hutchinson is a dramatic actress of wide experience. The Broadway bills in which she has played include "Lady Be Good," "The Yellow Jacket," "Castles in the Air," "Riders to the Sea," "The Town's Woman," and others.

Worked In Radio

She has made theatrical tours in such productions as "Peer Gynt," "The Silver Swan," and "A Midsummer Night's Dream." Her experience also includes radio and television work.

Greek, Latin Prof Made Chaplain At Wisconsin Convent

Off to new duties as Chaplain of the Sisters of St. Francis, St. Rose Convent, LaCrosse, Wis., went the Rev. Camillus Lutkemeier, C.P.P.S., professor of Greek and Latin here since 1927. Father Camillus departed for his new work Monday morning, Feb. 1.

Bulk of the luggage which Father Camillus packed to take with him consisted of great bundles of musical compositions from the pens of the world's greatest masters. In his room, on the third floor of the Administration Building, his Poole baby grand piano stood silent, its lid closed.

FR. CAMILLUS LUTKEMEIER

Came Here In 1927

Ordained in 1927, Father Lutkemeier came to Collegeville in September of that year to begin his teaching duties. He continued his post as professor in the Department of Classical Languages until the close of the first semester last week.

Postpone Raleigh Club Meeting Until Feb. 8

Because of the absence of Bill Smith, president of the Raleigh Club, and other officers, the meeting scheduled for Feb. 1 was postponed until Feb. 8.

This meeting was to be held to decide the possibilities of holding the annual Valentine dance. According to a previous statement by Smith the hope for a dance at this time is slim.

However, every possible angle will be considered at the meeting to enable the students to enjoy this feature of the Raleigh Club.

Attend Education Meet

At St. Charles Seminary, Carthage, Ohio, last week for a conference on education were the Revs. Dr. H. A. Lucks, C.P.P.S., Dr. W. Pax, C.P.P.S., Dr. J. Hiller, C.P.P.S.

Dwenger Mission Unit Holds Campaign For Old Clothing

"Any old clothes for the Missions?" was the question asked at every room on the campus last Wednesday.

The results of the drive were better than had been expected. Seifert Hall contributed by far the most, because the greatest percentage of men live there.

The clothes will either be sent to one of the negro missions of the Precious Blood, or to an Indian Mission in North Dakota.

Another Drive This Spring

Members of the Dwenger Mission Unit hope to make another drive like this in the spring.

So they ask the students to save any old clothes they may get meanwhile. A patched pair of trousers, though a fellow may no longer want them, may still keep a poor Indian warm for a long time.

The

DRIFT

(Editorial)

FOR ALL THE SNOW and inclement weather there is a tinge of spring in the air these days. You can tell it most by the feel of the sun's warmth against your back on a clear afternoon. The sun seems warmer and fuller than it should in deep winter. The sap is stirring in bushes and trees, too. Limbs no longer snap off, but bend and are pliable. These days are like an overture before the curtain goes up on a new season.

There is the beginning of feverish activity in the world of the elements: A desire of things to grow, to put off the old, to change. And in like manner—at the beginning of this second and final semester of the school year—there should be, from the beginning, a feverish activity, a longing for the new, fresh start.

More even than the dawn of a New Year, the beginning of another semester should fill hearts and minds with a determination to live these coming months in all their fullness—realizing that there is a time for work and a time for play, but never a time to relinquish the struggle for what is right and just.

As the sun is warmer, so should our hopes be brighter. As the branches of tree and bush are more resistant, so should our determination be stronger: To pray, work, and play in the fullest sense of our duty to God, Country, and ourselves.

Next Monday night, at the regular meeting of the Sanguinist Club for Catholic Action, the Rev. Cletus Dirksen, C.P.P.S., will continue his discussion of the Popes' Social Encyclicals. The title of this second address in the series is "The Nature of the Social Man."

Since the meeting is open to all students it might not be a bad idea to devote an hour next Monday evening to the discussion. The problem of reconstructing the world after the Armistice is a vital issue in all parts of the world today. It is a question which troubles men who are resolute in their belief that Peace should be firmly planted where chaos and disorder now reign.

The part which the college graduate will play in the period of rebuilding and reshaping cannot be over-estimated. On his shoulders will fall the greatest burden of leadership, for he has been trained to lead; on his mind will bear the problem of insuring world peace that the future shall not see a repetition of these ghastly days. Those who are seriously considering their place in the world to come can hardly afford to miss an opportunity to discuss and weigh the problems of tomorrow.

Following the Flickers

With Dick Schreiber

THE WORLD OF SHOW BUSINESS is a close-knit territory. Show folk cling together tenaciously and follow each others' activities from coast to coast. Sometimes years go by without one old trooper meeting another he knows; still their handclasp is just as firm and fervent when a meeting place is arranged. It is interesting to note that Eddy Howard, who played for the spring prom here last year, will be featured on the Coca Cola spotlight band program, Friday, Feb. 5. He is currently featured at a spot in St. Louis, Mo.

So much for these disconnected musings. Now for the reviews.

RITZ: Friday & Saturday

From the pages of a best-seller by Richard Llewellyn, comes the screen play, "How Green Was My Valley."

Starring in this story of simple Welsh mining folk are Walter Pidgeon, Maureen O'Hara, Donald Crisp, Anna Lee, and Roddy McDowell. Legion Rating: A-2.

This picture won the Academy Award as the best picture of the year, and for having the best director and supporting actor—John Ford and Donald Crisp respectively. You'll like it through and through for the heart-warming, down-to-earthness of it.

RITZ: Sunday Through Tuesday

To top all the whodunnit shows come Abbott and Costello—those zanies of the rowdy farce. The picture is even called "Who Done It?" This is Abbott and Costello doing the kind of stuff that made them famous. Legion Rating: Unavailable.

PALACE: Sunday Through Thursday

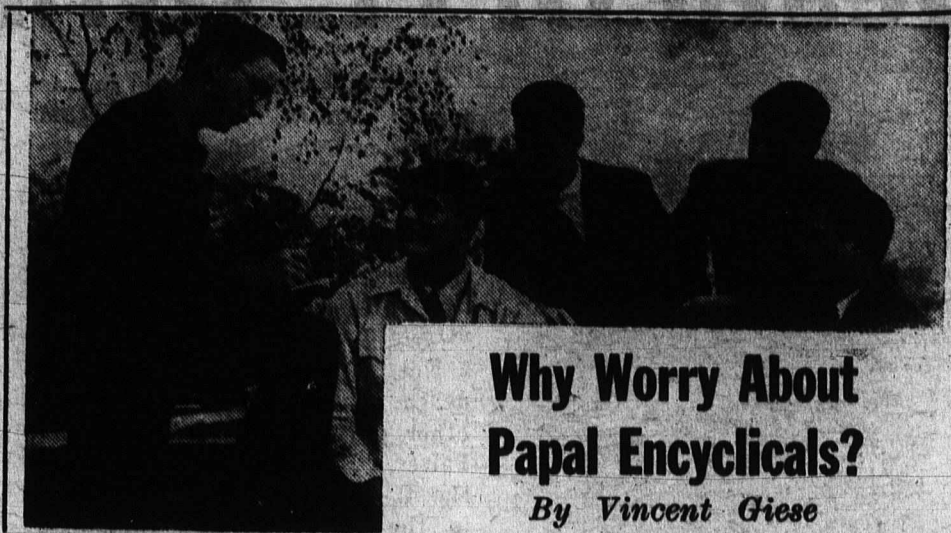

One of the best of all propaganda shows is "Hitler's Children," adapted from the challenging book by Gregor Ziemer, called "Education For Death." This is the sordid story of the evils of the Nazi regime as they effect women and children. "Among the evils challenged," says the Legion of Decency report, "is the sterilization of women." Tim Holt, Bonita Granville, Otto Kruger, and H. B. Warner star in it. Emmet Lavery, distinguished Catholic playwright, did the movie script. Legion Rating: A-2.

RITZ: Wednesday & Thursday

"My Heart Belongs To Daddy," starring Richard Carlson and Martha O'Driscoll, is one of those flickers that rarely cause any great commotion. The producers' money might have been better spent on another project—like financing a crew to fill up the grand canyon. Legion Rating: B.

Joe told the girl he was in the Navy. Soooo the girl wrote to Dan to find out Joe's whereabouts. Dan answered the girl. The girl answered Dan, etc. Dan got a date with the girl. Now, Dan is in the Army. Joe is still in school. And we'll take the girl, Jimmy Sheehan received "Neh" for an answer when he proposed to that little red head up town. Don't worry Jim. Not everybody can be a Vogt . . . Does anybody know what happened to John Nyeste's draping green stocking cap? John claims that he can't fathom his Greek without it. But when Nick went to pick it up Red had already sold it someone else.

Why Worry About Papal Encyclicals?

By Vincent Giese

After you read this week's column you might have the impression that STUFF has been showing undue partiality toward plans which must be worked out after this war in order that not only future wars will be prevented but that all people will live in Christian harmony in a way of life permeated with the Christian spirit.

This partiality is not undue, for the question of social organization is vitally important to our future well-being. Again let us emphasize the fact that on the shoulders of Catholic college graduates will rest in the future the burden of seeing that this Christian ideal materializes.

The Christian plan of reconstruction has been laid down dogmatically and concisely in the famous Papal Encyclicals, "Reum Novarum" and "Quadragesimo Anno," and in various commentaries on them. These should be a "must read" on every Catholic student's reading list.

This week STUFF proposed this question to several of the students: Why do you feel that Catholic students should know the Papal plans of social reconstruction? Here are the answers:

Francis Kinney, senior from Iron-ton, Ohio: "Catholic students should know the Papal plans for reconstruction, for in the midst of so many modern and false theories it is well to know the truth. Since the Popes' plan is based on the ideal social order, by understanding it we should be able to recognize in our own order what is to be discarded and what must be retained."

Bill Keogh, senior from Toledo, Ohio: "Catholic college students should understand the Papal plans for the reconstruction because Catholic students should possess the correct social and moral background necessary to build a social order according to Christian principles."

Richard Schreiber, senior from Iron-ton, Ohio: "Catholic college students should be acquainted with these plans, for it is the avowed purpose of Catholic students to lead both in thought and action in the reconstruction or making over of the world's social order. Armed with the philosophy of the social Encyclicals, and with his feet planted firmly in fundamental Catholic doctrine, the Catholic college stu-

Senior Sketches

By Tom Scheiber

(With this column, Tom Scheiber, sophomore Engineering student from Tiffin, Ohio, writes "30" to his college career until Armistice Day. He left St. Joseph's last Friday to join the Armed Forces. Best of luck, Tom.—Editor.)

"I need stilts," says John B. Keehner, Youngstown, Ohio, senior. P.P., as his best acquaintances call him, is a mere five foot, six and three-quarters—but that has nothing to do with his ability.

Born in Youngstown, June 11, 1921, John graduated from Ursuline high school there in 1939. He came to Collegeville in September of that year to begin his studies for a degree in—of all things—mathematics.

"I was strictly a muscle-man in high school," says Keehner. He means he was a three-year man on the football squad. Sandwiched in between was a year as editor of the high school yearbook.

At St. Joseph's he has been a four-year member of the Raleigh Club, and is now secretary of that organization besides being president of the senior class, president of the Albertus Magnus Society, and Editor of Phase, the college yearbook. Last year he won the Hanley Science Award for an essay and demonstration delivered in the College Theatre.

When he graduates in May, John will don the blue of Uncle Sam's Navy since he is enrolled in the V-7 Reserve Corps. And after that he intends to occupy a seat on the other side of the desk from the position in which he now finds himself.

PUMAS MEET WABASH, INDIANA STATE

Puma Prints

By Jim Welter

Small kid makes good: Mike Sokol is the shortest member of the Puma net squad, but recently he has been causing local followers to sit up and take notice. This speedy little forward played a few seconds against Great Lakes at Ft. Wayne in his first college game. Since then, however, he has started every game. He garnered six field goals against Valpo's giants and then followed through with six more against Chicago Teachers.

Intramural players are strange: I-M bowlers walked to Rensselaer and paid four bits, three to four times a week, in order to bowl. I-M basketball players walked only a few steps to Science Hall Gym and paid nothing. Yet during the first semester the bowling league ran with 100% efficiency while the cooperation in basketball was about half.

Out of all the criticism that has been heaped on the I-M basketball setup, one sweet note should be struck for Tom Joyce, Bureau, Ill., junior. Tom was manager of this branch of intramurals. Often he was confronted with no referees, besides having the clock and scoreboard to handle. Then many times, at the last minute, it was necessary to change schedules to suit captains who had been negligent in settling their conflicts.

A glance through last year's records reveals that one year ago the Pumas had defeated their rivals in eight of their fourteen contests. Bernie Hoffman had collected one hundred eighty-six points for a 13.3 average. Jiggs Huysman had gathered seventy-eight.

Maybe SJC cage records would be brighter if the Pumas played more of their contests on the fieldhouse court. To date this year, the Deinhardtmen have won all four of their home engagements. Last year they were victorious in nine of their ten games in the fieldhouse.

Reports from Valparaiso indicate that the Crusaders' one time great (in height, at least) basketball team is disintegrating. Five of the original fifteen members of the skyscrapers' aggregation have departed from the squad to enter the armed forces. With some of the boys enlisted in the Army Reserve, Coach Loren E. Ellis faces further losses.

The Cardinal and Purple defeated Loyola University 33-30 last Dec. 15. Since then Loyola has been rolling along in great fashion and boasts a twenty-point victory over Chicago U. and a recent one-point upset over Toledo, one of the top Ohio teams. Of course, Chicago isn't the class of the Big Ten either.

Sailors Trample St. Joe 63-28 In Second Meeting

Great Lakes' Bluejackets defeated the Puma cagemen for the second time this season. The score was 63-28 in a lopsided contest played last Monday night on the Sailors' floor at Great Lakes, Ill.

Forward Sprowl, with five field and two gratis shots, was top scorer in the hectic battle which saw all but one of the fourteen Navy players collecting at least two points. Capt. Bernie Hoffman managed to slip in eleven counters to lead the losing attack.

One noticeable item is the fact that twenty-two personal fouls were called against the Bluejackets, while St. Joe was guilty of only ten rule violations. Great Lakes made seven of their twelve free tosses. The Pumas converted only eight of twenty-six.

John Feicht Leaves Sports Editor Post

With this edition, senior John Feicht, from Canton, Ohio, steps aside and relinquishes the position of sports editor, a task he performed since September, 1942.

Stepping into Feicht's shoes is freshman Jim Welter, from Tiffin, Ohio, who has been assistant sports editor for the past several months.

Feicht, a graduate of St. John's high school, Canton, came to St. Joseph's in the fall of 1940 and has gone straight through, doing summer school work. He is a Physical Education major, and is in the Army's Enlisted Reserve Corps Unassigned.

Was Bowling Champion

Always interested in sports, John's outstanding moments as an athlete came while he was a senior in high school. He was a member of the bowling team which won the tournament championship of the city. In that tournament, Feicht won the high individual series score. Two of his games were past 200—how far past he doesn't recall.

At St. Joseph's, he participated in all of the various phases of intramural sports. He joined the staff of STUFF in February, 1941, as a staff writer and reporter. His appointment as sports editor came in September, 1942.

Both Teams Given High Rating Among Mid-West Quintets

St. Joseph's cage squad apparently have all their trouble at once. They face three of their highest ranking opponents within eight days.

Following last Monday's tilt with the Great Lakes quintet are engagements with Wabash at Crawfordsville Friday night, and Indiana State next Monday night.

Prior to meeting the Pumas, Great Lakes had finished thumping Missouri, the class of the Big Six Conference, 92-45, and previously unbeaten Kansas 47-41. Indiana State recently dropped Indiana Central from the unbeaten column. Both State and Wabash hold decisive victories over Butler.

Indiana Rated High

According to Dunkle's weekly basketball forecast, Indiana State, with ten straight victories to their credit, is the tenth team of the midwest. The only Hoosier universities to rate higher are Indiana U. and Notre Dame. He places Wabash ten points better than St. Joseph's. The Terre Haute boys have a 67.3 rating compared with the Pumas' 54.0.

Last year Wabash rapped the Cardinal and Purple to a 61-29 tune. Coach Deinhardt's proteges will have to halt high scoring forward Greve if they desire to avenge that sound defeat. Greve recently rolled up thirty-four points in one contest.

Top Conference Race

Besides boasting ten straight victories, the Sycamores of Indiana State are on the top of the Indiana Conference race. Last year their great aggregation twice downed the local five, 56-40, and 49-40.

The site of the Sycamore-Puma meeting is uncertain. That tilt was originally scheduled to be played at Terre Haute. A Golden Gloves tournament is to be held there on Feb. 8, and thus the battle may be in the fieldhouse with the second game played there instead of here. An announcement to that effect will be made in the refectory.

Joins Army Air Forces

Frank Susoreny, sophomore from East Port Chester, Conn., has been accepted by the Meteorology division of the Army Air Corps.

Frank left St. Joseph's to report to Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis.

Reserve Status Still Remains Uncertain

In reply to a telegraphed query sent by the Rev. Norman Koller, C.P.P.S., Dean of Students, Col. A. L. Fuller, Chief of the R.O.T.C., Fifth Service Command, states that Army Reserves will be called as a group about four weeks after the opening of the school semester.

It is expected that members of the Army Enlisted Reserve Corps Unassigned will be allowed approximately two weeks from the time of their original summons to active duty, but this is mere speculation.

"Detailed instruction," said to be following in the telegram received by the V. Rev. Aloys H. Dirksen, C.P.P.S., president of St. Joseph's, had not yet arrived when this edition of STUFF went to press.

Triduum Closes

On January 26, 27, and 28 a Triduum for the students of St. Joseph's who are in or who are about to enter the armed forces was held.

The service consisted of prayers and private Benediction after the noon meal, which were held in the Chapel. There was also an increased attendance at Mass on these three days.

post-graduate work. In addition to this he enrolled for summer study at Notre Dame and the University of Illinois. At the latter institution he carried courses in music next to the classics, his greatest love.

Led Other Activities

In addition to his classes in Greek and Latin, Father Camillus was director of the Archconfraternity of the Precious Blood and of the campus Holy Name Society. From time to time he also assisted Professor Paul Tonner in the music department.

Father Lutkemeier succeeds the late Father Meinrad Koester, C.P.P.S., at St. Rose. Besides being spiritual director of the Sisters, he will also teach some convent classes.

Offer Spherical Trig For Second Semester

Spherical trigonometry will be taught here this semester for the first time as part of the college curriculum. Designated Math 107 it will be taught twice a week by the Rev. Alfred Zanolar, C.P.P.S.

Though not primarily intended for that purpose, it will serve well the need of the Naval Reserves and those who intend to join the Navy.

Writers Dip Pens For Prize Money

By Bill Schenk

Fifty dollars are awaiting the student who composes the best short story, play or poem within the next few months as part of the Pursley Literary Contest. Plans are being considered whereby the essays, short stories, etc., submitted, may be accepted in place of regular English assignments.

This contest founded in memory of Mary J. Pursley, will end near the first part of May. All original creative writing in Catholic fiction, drama, or poetry is eligible.

Twenty-five dollars will be awarded for the best essay. Popularized articles in any field, as biology, history, etc., and especially familiar essays are eligible. Here is the time to write out your views on the way some people comb their hair, or manage to get in just in time for classes, or some other subject of equal importance.

In The Right Mood?

If you happen to be in the right mood at the time, whether you have written much or not, you have a good chance at the prizes. Or perhaps an interesting article on ameba or silicon or Dante, or one of a thousand and one other things would interest you more. Whatever it is, why not try to write it now, while classes aren't too pressing?

If you have any questions about these contests, see your English professor. He will be glad to help you in whatever way he can.

C.L.S. To Decide Next Production

At their meeting next Sunday the members of the Columbian Literary Society will discuss a forthcoming production. Although he intends to produce something before Lent, the Rev. Paul Speckbaugh, C.P.P.S., club moderator, has been waiting to see how the membership holds out this semester before deciding what play will be staged. At present he is considering the comic-mystery, "Arsenic and Old Lace."

Call Sanguinist Meeting For Thursday Night

Brunton Elected Commerce Officer

At their first meeting of the semester last night (Tuesday) the members of the Commerce Club elected Paul Brunton vice-president to succeed Joe Grance, who just graduated.

Keys for members who graduated last summer were shown to the members. The keys will be sent to Joe Beall, Dan Goldcamp, Bill Gladen, and Charles Riedel.

Pick Discussion Board

That the club may continue to teach one another. Edwin Ritter and the executive committee appointed the following members to the discussion board: Wally Spalding, Tom Cooney, Paul Birkmeier, Fred Beckman, Tom Shay, Ernest Kernan. This committee will pick a topic for discussion at the next meeting.

Expressing a hope that all the clubs on the campus might work together for their common interests, the president extended a special invitation from the Sanguinist Club to all the members of the Commerce Club to attend the second of Father Cletus Dirksen's lectures on the social encyclicals next Monday night. The club should have met Monday night, but too few of the members were on the campus.

Eight new Academy students registered for the second semester. They were Lawrence Bauman, Ft. Thomas, Ky., and John King, Oak Park, Ill., freshmen; Gordon Ash, Detroit, Mich., Albert King, Oak Park, Ill., and Donald Molony, Anderson, Ind. sophomores; Clair Denison, Conneaut, Ohio, and Anthony LaHood, Peoria, Ill., juniors.

Here are the first semester Academy high averages as released from the office of the Rev. Walter Pax, C.P.P.S., principal.
